

21st Century Eco Hero

Griffie isn't your ordinary eco hero! Nor is he much like other mythical creatures.

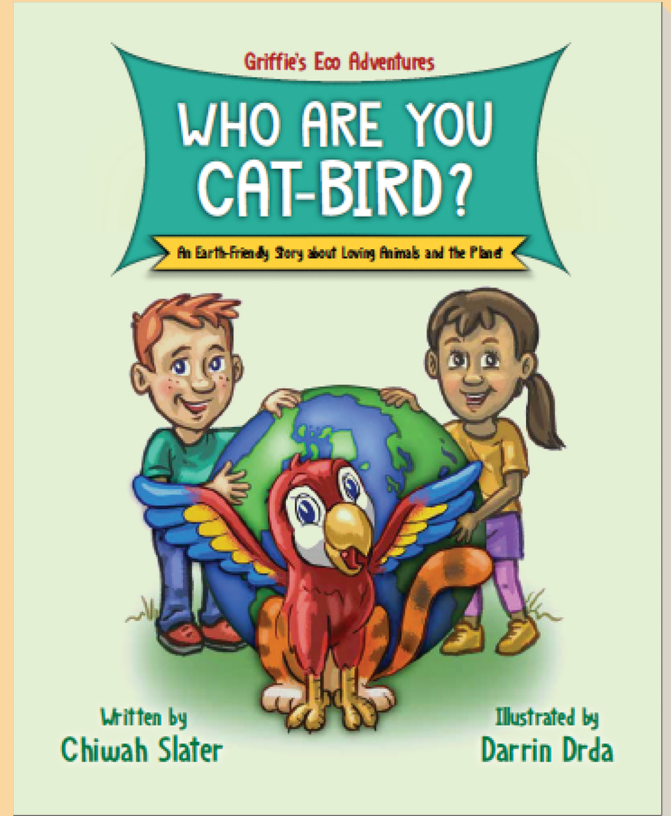

This modern-day griffin is a sight to behold—a house cat with a parrot's head and wings!

Why? Because humans are taming the Earth.

Watch how he wins children over and sets them to caring for the environment! That's how he's earning his first eagle feathers.

Fun and informative, this fully illustrated, rhyming children's story also presents powerful messages of helping others and being all that you can be .

Two pages of questions and fun activities for kids ages 4-8 make this a delightful first "green" book for children at home, at the library, and in the classroom.

"With Griffie's help, creating a greener world can be lots of fun for you and me and everyone!"

– Dave Finnigan (Professor Green), author, Green Actioneers Family Action Guide

"Griffie makes Earth stewardship a fun adventure. He's the perfect eco hero for preschoolers and the primary grades!"

– Judy Cullins, teacher and mom

Griffie, a unique and delightful mythical creature, shows children how we're harming our Earth and offers tips on how to protect wild animals and ensure a better future. The rhyming makes the story memorable, and the illustrations clearly reinforce the written message."
